SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 24, 1892

Berlin, 23rd.—The Government is seriously preoccupied with the progress of Socialism among the agricultural labourers, owing to the propaganda of the Socialist party.

Every feast day hundreds of Socialist agents go into the villages and preach to the peasants, calling on them to organize and study Socialism, and they are successful in many places. The Government is devising means to counteract this propaganda.

St. Petersburg, 23rd.—It has been decided to create a Ministry of Agriculture and study Socialism, and the Minister will shortly be appointed.

Dublin, 23rd.—The Corporation has decided not to give any reception to the new Lord Lieutenant on his arrival here.

Hamburg, 23rd.—Cholera has slightly declined in the last 24 hours. Only 160 fresh cases and 50 deaths to-day.

Deputy Durmay has received a letter and 10,000 marks from Emperor William.

Paris, 23rd.—Cholera is increasing here in spite of the change of season; sixty fresh cases to-day and 20 deaths.

In Havre to-day there are 8 fresh cases and 2 deaths.

St. Petersburg, 23rd.—Thirty-two fresh cases and nine deaths here to-day.

Mr. T. J. Norton of the epidemic is disappearing.

No change at Cracow or Padgorze.

Berlin, 23rd.—The recently born Princess Imperial will be baptized on the 22nd prox. with great pomp.

Rome, 23rd.—There is great excitement displayed in preparation for the general elections. The Catholic party is greatly divided on the subject.

The Pope has not decided to allow the Catholic Church to take an active part in the elections.

In face of the probability of the clergy appearing at the polls, the Liberals are redoubling their efforts in favour of the candidates.

Frankfurt, 23rd.—The Zeitung of this city says that Emperor William will arrive here on the 10th prox.

Rotterdam, 23rd.—Cholera has broken out here. Three cases and one death reported to-day.

Brussels, 23rd.—Cholera is spreading in the provinces.

(Per Haas Agency)

BRUSSELS.—The formation of a Bakers' Cooperative Society has caused discontent among the working bakers and the police had to interfere to prevent a riot. Nevertheless, there were some persons injured. The rioters were arrested.

Antwerp, 23rd.—The cholera has increased seriously in the past few days in several parts of the kingdom. The authorities are adopting precautionary measures.

(To the "Prensa.")

Constantinople, 22nd.—Russia has sent a note to the Porte drawing attention to the serious consequences that may result from its relations with Bulgaria. The note accuses Turkey of having violated treaties made with Russia. This affair has caused a profound sensation here.

New York, 22nd.—The Venezuelan Minister has gone in a steam-ship, left him by the Government, in charge of the steamer that left some days ago with arms for the Venezuelan rebels.

Paris, 22nd.—The French troops in Dahomey have been hemmed in by the natives and have lost several officers in the fighting going on.

Rome, 22nd.—The Pope's support of Republicanism in France has raised the hopes of a Republic in Italy, and the idea has made great headway amongst the masses.

London, 22nd.—The Chinese troops have driven back a small Russian force that entered the Central territory near Tush-Kurgan.

Hamburg, 22nd.—The epidemic is slowly declining here.

Lisbon, 22nd.—Captain Andrews has arrived safely here from New Jersey, having crossed the Atlantic in 10 days, 10 hours and 10 minutes.

London, 22nd.—An English family of six persons have died of cholera in Paris.

DRY-DOCK AND ARSENAL.

The project now before Congress to construct an Argentine Chascomus on the Pacific coast, at a cost of $200,000 sterling, finds little approval among the public, for many reasons:

Firstly, because it is highly improper to have an arsenal in a commercial and unprotected city like Buenos Ayres, in a condition to devote $200,000 to such a purpose. Thirdly, because our town is of difficult access, and an arsenal would be better placed on the seashore.

On the other hand there is no reason why an arsenal should be placed at Buenos Ayres. Surely the health of the city is sufficiently compromised already by the new docks, in their unfinished condition.

An arsenal, moreover, implies gunpowder and other explosives, which should rather see at Bahia Blanca.

So far as we can judge there are 3 places eminently suited for an arsenal: Cape St. Anthony, Bahia Blanca and San Blas. Messrs. Gibson of Ajo already hold a concession for the construction of one at San Clemente, just inside Cape St. Anthony, sheltered from S. W. winds, and with channel and docks at the mouth of the River Plate the situation seems admirable, and the only question, we suppose, is for Messrs. Gibson to obtain the necessary capital.

In the second place Bahia Blanca has all the same advantages as Cape St. Anthony, offering easy access to sea-going vessels and shelter from the most winds. But, if Admiral Kennedy's authority be of weight the best place of all is San Blas, which is protected by islands and by Point Rubin, and has water for the largest iron-clads to anchor within a cable's length of the shore.

If the possibility of a naval war makes Argentina feel that an arsenal is a matter of urgency we should strongly advise them to devote the money to the construction of a fleet, and to forward same with a map of Argentina and a copy of our new Handbook to Sir E. Reed or some other naval engineer of reputation, begging him to visit the place and report on the proposed arsenal. A cheque for one hundred guineas would not be money thrown away, in a matter of such importance. Private interests must not be allowed to enter into a question on which in a manner depends the safety of the country.

DIPLOMATIC DINNER.

The British Chargé d'Affaires, Mr. George R. Welby, is a believer in Lord Palmerston's "dictum" that a good dinner aids diplomacy, by helping to strengthen the "entente cordiale" between nations. It was a happy thought of his to give a banquet to the Ministers of Foreign Affairs and Finance on the eve of their retiring from office. The banquet took place on Thursday evening at the Café de Paris, the guests sitting down to dinner at 7.30. Mr. Welby had on his right Dr. Zeballos, Minister of Foreign Affairs, and on his left Mr. E. Hansen, Minister of Finance, and in front the Duke de Lucignano, Italian Minister, Baron Silsbury, Austro-Hungarian Minister, and Mr. Peter Cristoferson, Russian Chargé d'Affaires, the rest of the company comprising Mr. Andrew Christopherson, Danish Consul General, Mr. Findlay, British Legation, Mr. Barrow, G. S. Railway, Mr. Thurnham, London and River Plate Bank, señor Pardo, sub-secretary of F. Affairs, Virasoro, Castello Alvo, Dr. Colbourne, Mr. Preston, Great Western Railway, Mr. Arthur Brown, English Legation, Mr. Thurnham, T. J. Norton, Mr. Boddie, Lampart and Holt Steamship Co., Mr. Essex, Read, Curran, Co., Mr. M. G. Mull, STANBAM, and Messrs. John Dryden, Rymer Watson and Charles Krabbe.

The following was the menu:—Potage, Mouseline, Xeres. Hors d'oeuvre, petits caisses Montalais. Poisson, Brochets a Courtail, Ch. La Fite. Entrees, Timbale de Richelieu, Filet Durham, Clapton St. Cloud. Poultry, Mousse a Royale. Dessert, Biscuits Victoria, Ayala frappé, Legume, Asperges sautes crême. Entremets, Risa l'Impératrice, fraises Chantrelles, fromages.

The dinner was admirably served, in the usual style of the moment, and very simple. There were no speeches, the company retiring to the drawing-room for coffee, and breaking up at 11 o'clock, much pleased with the entertainment. It was a fitting and graceful compromise to the two Argentine contentions now going back into private life, seeing that during the existence of the present Cabinet the relations of Argentina with G. Britain and other Foreign Powers have been maintained on the most cordial and friendly footing. So long as men of the same stamp, and there are many in Buenos Ayres, hold office at the Casa Rosada we have no fear of any "contrepense" in the march of affairs.

THE CONSPIRACY.

Yesterday was another day devoted to wild rumors and fanciful conjectures as to the circumstances and objects of the conspiracy discovered in the Santa Catalina Encampment. The incoherence of the evidence of the authorities is to a certain degree accounted for by the fact that the conspiracy was by no means of a nature to ally the general anxiety. Last April, when the Radical conspiracy was discovered, the authorities were by no means of a nature to ally the general anxiety. Last April, when the Radical conspiracy was discovered, the authorities were by no means of a nature to ally the general anxiety.

The origin of this rumor, which had no foundation, is unknown. It was believed by a good many people, and contributed to increase the general anxiety. A singular feature at the present moment is the complete parity of the political clubs, which manifest no symptoms of excitement whatever. The Radical clubs meet nightly to open correspondence and despatch their usual business, attaching any importance to the conspiracy. The same may be said of the other political clubs.

The good people in the pretty little town of Lomas de Zamora, which lies within a stone's throw, we may say, from Santa Catalina, were considerably alarmed on Thursday and yesterday by rifle reports, and came to the conclusion that the conspirators were being shot. However, the reports they heard were merely the inevitable accompaniment of the target-practice of the soldiers.

In high political circles the conspiracy has been much discussed, and it appears to be the general opinion that the President-elect will be compelled by the weight of circumstances to considerably modify his proposed ministry. There is a very strong element of discontent.

In regard to the Santa Catalina Encampment, it is generally supposed that it immediately strikes one as artificial and enforced. The troops are under arms and all the severity of camp-life is vigorously enforced.

It is stated upon seemingly good authority that no less than 45 officers have already been arrested. The following are known to be amongst the arrested: Captains: Amador Molina, Juan Gonzalez, Eduardo Gonzalez, Juan Gonzalez, and Hilaria Calfino, Lieutenant: Juan Noguera, Manuel Marique, Antonio Tassi, Luis Chousin, Francisco Villanor, Abelardo Mauffio, and Luis Fortunato, Sub-Lieutenants: Victoriano Lora, Calisto Ruiz, Bernardo Westphal, Pedro Camp, Enrique Mendez, Antonio A. Lopez, and Luis Galinardi.

It is the general opinion that, had not the officers been discovered, the moment it fortunately was, it would have been too late to stop the movement, and the country would now be in the throes of a revolution. This, too, appears to be the opinion of the officers in the Encampment. There was some talk yesterday about an important despatch made by one, or two officers of high rank.

OUR LONDON LETTER.

MR. LABOUCHERE AND THE QUEEN.

(From our own Correspondent.)

London, Aug. 26th.

In spite of Tories, Unionists and cantankerous Labourists John Morley has been returned at Newcastle by a majority of 1,000.

This is decidedly a triumph for Gladstonians and Home Rule, whilst the G. O. M. are at the same time congratulating themselves on their Chief's victory over the Tories.

Henry Labouchere. This latter affair seems to me now so antique that I forget you know little about it, or only what you call from Hays. You remember the time when Mr. Labouchere was directly accused of the Queen of excluding him from the Cabinet. He told his constituents at Northampton that this was the case, and in this week's Truth he enlarges on the subject, by, contrary to general rules of etiquette, publishing in the Truth the details of an interview between himself and what he calls "an emissary from Carlton Gardens." He says: "After a lengthy exordium expounding his views on a monarchial country, it is I always will to consider the wishes of the monarch, he told me I was one of Mr. Gladstone's chief difficulties. I was asked to get him out of this difficulty by the revolution, a great deal of what I said I did not wish to join his government, although I should be very much below the gangway, and I was informed, presumably as a quid pro quo for my services, that I was to be consulted with me on public matters."

This letter I decided to write and to my thinking, my refusal was a proper one.

Most people think so too, but the rest of the revolution, a great deal of what I said I did not wish to join his government, although I should be very much below the gangway, and I was informed, presumably as a quid pro quo for my services, that I was to be consulted with me on public matters."
